KENTUCKIAN is in possession of the names and other particulars.

These steps are in line with the desperate mothods advised by Taylor, Deboe and other Republicans, who openly advocate force in their speeches and predict bloodshed at the polls.

Baffled in their purpose to steal the election again this year, these Republicans are driven to desperation. Powerless to commit fraud.

Republicans are driven to despera-tion. Powerless to commit fraud, they would turn to force and intimi-dation. The instruction of a federal judge on the eve of the election are to be used in the effort to frighten the officers of election intoletting fraudulent votes be polled, and talk of bloodshed is to be indulged in to scare the timid into staying away, and threats of arrest are being made to prevent these methods from being resisted.

Two years ago it became neces sary for the good of the public ser-vice to change the personnel of the Council in some wards.

In the political shake-up of the previous year some of the member left the party and these men allied themselves with the Republicans and attempted to deliver the city into the hands of that party. They found willing allies among the Republicans of the city. The colored voters especially rallied to the fuvoters especially railied to the tu-sion ticket and some Democrats were deluded into supporting the bolting ticket. The election boards were packed in the interest of the allied forces and in the hardest fight ever seen in the city, the Dem ocrats saved the city governmen by a margin so close that it turne upon the votes of a few Republi cans in one ward who held the bus iness of the city above the am-bition of a candidate who had been repudiated by the party he had betrayed.

It developed afterwards that the leaders of this movement had prom-ised every office at the disposal of the Council to one or more persons, using the patronage of the city to influence supporters. This in de-fiance of the plain provisions of the constitution and the statutes. They even made promises to the liquor men that secured their solid suplican committee in Executive ses-sion, though the leaders in some wards are still masquerading as Democrats. They have again en-listed the support of the whisky men, it is said by a promise to de-prive the city of $3,500 revenue by

The surplus young roosters should be sold during Sep-tember and October, as they will bring more money then than later. If it is impossible to market then If it is impossible to market them until after that time, it is best to hold them until after the first of January, for prices are always low during the intervening months. Turkeys are most salable around the holidays. Old turkeys large young gobblers should be marketed for Thanksgiving and Christmas; poor stock should never be sent to the market. All should be sent to the market. All should be well fattened before being shipped. The bens and small young gobblers should be kept un-til after the holidays. The appearance of poultry has more to do with the selling of it than the kind of packages in which it is shipped.

In selecting a shipment of poultry for the market the breeder will find it to be of advantage to have his birds of uniform size. They look better and neater and will bring a higher price. Pack them all neatly, for appearance has much to do with finding a market for them. Handle the carcass so carefully that the light outer skin will not be broken. The shink under skin showing through in spots detracts from their appearance.

There is one thing which breed-ers generally overlook and that is the saving of feathers. While it might not pay to save feathers from a few fowls, it would undoubtedly pay well where a large number are dressed out, and thus the fowls would contribute their last item to the poultry fund P. Woodsoon Tells His Paper About the Trip.

The Visiting Correspondents Say Goebel Is as Good as Elected.

Urey Woodson sent this report to his paper at the end of Bryan's second day in Kentucky.

At the end of Mr. Bryan's second day in Kentucky, after a tour of 1,000 miles, and speaking to more than 76,000 people, I asked him tonight what was his impression of the situation in Kentucky. He replied that he liked it. He thought the Democrats had their affairs in excellent shape. He believed from what he had seen that Goebel would surely win. Mr. Bryan has not formed this opinion on account of the great crowds that have come out to hear him or from their enout to hear him or from their en-thusiastic greetings of him, but in his observation of the intense interest in and devotion to Goebel. The fervor of the people, the approval of Goebel's speeches manifested in every adience that has been to hear him, has brought on this conviction that Goebel can not be defeated. He has learned also at a number of place, where he has spoken that Goebel but recently drew almost such crowds as himself, and that such crowds as himself, and that Taylor has not really had a good crowd. He has also sized up the Brown boit. Goobel has grown upon Bryan. He enjoys Goobel's manly speeches, and listens intentity to him.

At Lexington today Bryan made his greatest speech. At Stanford seemed to be in a perfect trenzy of delight over Bryan's coming. The enthusiasm manifested at these speeches is marvelous. The demonstrations over Goebel were quite as great as those over Bryan. and everywhere Blackburn was greeted with much heartiness. Blackburn made strong speeches at Richmond and Stanford. Goebel's greatest effort was at Lexington, where he surpassed all previous speeches and the audience roared its appreciation.

The monster demonstrations have convinced the New York, Chicago and Washington newspaper cor-respondents that Goebel's victory is practically won. James Creelman, of the New York Journal, offers to bet $100 to $90 on Goebel. He has made careful investigations for several days. He declares there can doubt of Goebel's victory.

The Man Goebel.

If testimony is needed in support of the proposition that Goebel is the right sort of man forgovernor it can be found in abundance. He was Hardin's second choice, while Stone wanted Goebel to get the nomination if he coulden't get it for himself. John Young Brown (saving himself always) was for Goebel first. He told Senator, Frazierjo Shebby county, that when Goebel made a man a of the proposition that Goebel is the promise, the man could go to sleep with absolute assurance that the promise would be kept to the very letter. On another occasion Brown said Goebel can write a better brief on one page of paper than most law-yers can write on 20 pages. Judge Pryor, one of the ablest and best men in the state, said when friends tried to get him torun for governor: "I am for Senator Goebel. I know him, and therefore I am for him. I would rather see him governor than be governor myself. Such a man is needed in Kentucky today."—Hen-derson Gleaner.

want to again call the attent on of the colored population to the fact that one Taylor button is enough this year. Some of them, following their old habits, are wearing two or more.

The Democrats of Covington have already answered Carlisle's attack on Goebel by nominating him for State Senator and electing him for State Senator and electing him for the a third time, since the alleged letters were written. The gathering of 30,000 people at Covington the other night also gave emphasis to the esteem in which Goebel is held by his home people.

Taylor's advice to Republicans in his appeaches to force their way into the poll rooms to see their totes counted is now being followed up by Debce's predictions that blood will flow on election day and the threats to use the federal authority to interfere in the election. These bluffs are a part of the program to frighten the timid. They will not work. The desperate Republicans frighten the timid. They will not work. The desperate Republicans are grasping at atraws. THOSE WONDERFUL SEALS

What is undoubtedly one of the most wonderful acts now before the public is given by Captain Wood-ward's performing seals and sea lions at each exhibition of the Adam Forepaugh-Sells Brothers' United These seals are at once the admiration and astonishment of the circus-going public, and they have received columns of notices in the papers. When the big double circus was exhibiting in the Madi-son Square Garden, in New York City, the journals of the metropolis spoke most enthusiastically of these emarkable animals. It is no easy matter to train a seal to discharg matter to train a seal to discharge firearms, play on musical instruments and juggle burning bands, as do Capt. Woodward's seals. It requires unlimited patience and much gentleness. A seal will do almost apything, but he always expects to be rewarded, and if Capt. Woodward did not give each of his seals a fish after each individual. erformance the seals would be high-offended, and would go through the next feat with evident reluc-

"I never neglect rewarding my seals," said Capt. Woodward. "By so doing they work willingly and harmoniously, and that, when you come to consider it, is everything. In many respects the seal is like a dog, and he has to be looked after just as carefully. It took me several years to teach two of the seals to toss in the air and catch sticks whose ends had been set ablaze. But patience and kindness go a long way with animals, and I feel well rewarded.

Woodward's amazing seals, to-gether with a big string of other rare special attractions, will be seen here with Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' big circus consolidation, Wednesday, October 25.

No man of any party can deny that these are all good and valid reasons for continuing Democratic rule. The people are asked to vote for a change in order that those set aside to better the service may be returned to power. These people make no promise of improving the conduct of affairs, for there is but little room for improvement. The city is admitted on all hands to be well governed, law-abding and well governed, law-abiding and moral to an exceptional degree. During the recent Street Fair, with 20,000 people packing the streets, there was but little dissipation and no unlawful disorder. There were but few arrests and none tor breaches of the peace. The morals of the city were protected by a firm and fearless mayor and a vigilant and efficient police force. Only one attempt to run an immoral show was made and the parties in that instance were arrested, fined and driven out of town within an hour. Will the Democrats and other property owners of the city, vote against such an administration as we have had for the last two years to place in power a set responsible to no party or organization, running without a platform of principles with no object but revenge and no incentive but spoils?

South Before The War.

Harry Martell's big southern production, South Before the War", will be manager Holland's attraction on Tuesday, Oct., 24.

This play is entirely different from anything of its kind that has been produced. The combination of darkies, big and little, numbering fafty people: the performance embracing a great variety of music, buck and wing dancing, camp meeting scenes, superb singing by four quartettes with a chorus of forty voices, a general cake walk which creates uproarious laughter, are some of the features. to the mixed ticket. Luckily for him, he saw the drift of things in time to cut loose from the crowd with which he found himself allied. He declined to stay on the ticket and there was a general hustle Sat-urday to find some one to take his place. Mr. Frank Yost was finally prevaled upon to get on "just to fill the vacancy," but it is by no means certain that he can be kept on until the election.

There is no politics in free turn pikes. That is one proposition we can all vote for, no matter how greatly we differ on other questions

SMOKE WITH THEIR EYES.

Few Men Enjoy Tobacco When They Cannot See.

The above statement, no doubt, strikes you as somewhat absurd, remarked a medical man to the writer, but it is none the less a fact.

I have for some time past made a study of those of my patients who are addicted to smoking, and my observations have led to the conclusion that at least 50 per cent. of them obtain very little, if any comfort or pleasure from the real taste of the tobacco. What gratification smoking gives them is derived from actually seeing the smoke. the smoke.

No fines, no judicial rebukes, no de-nunciation from platforms, no legis-lative enactments declaring things are reprebensible will touch the subject, but a specific enactment that a special rate granted to any one not enjoyed by the other is a felony, and proper means toward punishing it will do something toward checking it, and, my friends. this is not any inconsid-erate statement; it is a crime of the first magnitude."

Republicans the smoke.

In the case of a lady devotee of the weed, this is almost invariably the fact, and only a very small percentage of males care about smoking in absolute darkness. I have myself known personally two instances in which a persistent smoker, having by some misfortune lost his sight, relinquished the use of tobacco from sheer jushility to enjoy it. The explana. quasicative use of totacco rousins sheer inability to enjoy it. The explanation is that the sense of sight strongly assists the sense of taste, not only in the case of tobacco, but everything else. Try the experiment of eating a favorite dish in absolute darkness, and you will soon discover that it does not taste half so good as when you are able to feast your eyes as well as your palate.—London Tit-Bits.

A story illustrative of the Spanish-American way of doing things comes American way of doing thinge comes from Uruguay. About two years ago, when the anniversary of national independence was being celebrated, in Montevideo, a grocer's clerk stepped out from the crowd and shot down Idiarte Borda, the then president. The Uruguayan courts long considered the assassin's case and proceedings ended in an acquittal "on the ground that he obeyed a patriotic impulse!"

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life will make as the appearence and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming manden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the charming manden. There are two reasons for this change, which comes with marriage. Many negromen appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage. Many negromen should be comedited in the system of the system through the change which comes and the form of its fairness. GOEBEL SURE TO WIN

In Kentucky...Bryan's Coming Tour Will Clinch a Practically

Certain Victory, And the Demo cratic Organization Will Carry the State by Ten Thousand.

Jas. Creelman in New York Journ Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 17.—The coming of Mr. Bryan to Kentucky turns the hopes of President Mc-Kinley to dust and from every part of the state evidence is pouring in of the state evidence is pouring in to-day by mail and by telegraph that Senator Goebel will be elected Governor in spite of the attempted treason represented by Mr. Brown's candidacy.

All the talk of shooting Mr. Bryan or waylaying him has died out. The revolting Democratic conspirators hoped to frighten the Democratic leader out of the State, but Mr. Brown and his friends did not know Mr. Bryan as they thought they did.

This afternoon I have had a chance to examine privately the sheets of the house to house canvass nade by the Democratic committee n each of the 119 counties of Ken ucky, and the absolute break-up o the Brown movement is clearly indicated.

Every hour the Goebel forces grow in strength and enthusiasm. Mr. Taylor, the Republican candidate, has failed to arouse the spirit of his party. The Republican man agers have made the mistake of re lying on the Brown conspiracy and on the serpentry of the disappointed gold Democratic leaders to destroy the Democratic party at the polls. The result is general apathy among Republicans

Brown is Being Deserted.

Yesterday three of Brown's coun-ty chairmen deserted him, and to-day ex-Congressman Boyd, of Winchester, one of the most powerful gold Democrats in Kentucky, has leclared himself for Goebel.

Hundreds of gold Democrats are re-entering the party every day. I make this statement after careful investigation. It is easy to see how a Democratic victory in Kentucky is now made sure. Most of the gold Democrats who are not for Goebel are supporting Brown. In fact, the Brown movement has awindled down into a gold Democratic movement. The Bryan Democrats have practi-cally withdrawn from it.

The number of gold Democrats credited to Brown in the poll sheets which are arriving every hour, shows that the Republicans will lose this year, the vote of the men who made it possible for McKinley to carry the State in 1896 by a plurality of 281.

It is safe to set down Kentucky in the Democratic column next year. This means another state for Bryan and it also means the certain on of Joe Blackburn to the Senate.

Not only will Mr. Bryan make seventeen speeches for Goebel, but Mayor Harrison will come to the State with the Cook County March-ing Club, and Mayor Van Wyck sent word to-day that he, too, would come to Kentucky to raise his voice for the Democracy.

After seeing many of the wisest men in the three political camps, I have secured accurate information of the facts revealed thus far by both the Republican and Democratic house to house poll of the

I cannot see how it is possible to bring Goebel's plurality below ten The Democratic thousand votes rganization is absolutely perfect his year.. It was never before considered necessary to make a Democratic house to house poll of Kentucky, the normal majority being great enough to leave a margin for all probable variations.

But the size of the gold Demo-cratic vote in 1896 convinced the leaders this year that in order to prepare the ground for the national campaign next year, nothing should be left to chance. Names are near-ly all in, and it is safe to call Ken-tucky a Democratic State again.

WHY NOT IN KENTUCKY?

Pheasants.

Fish and Game Commissioner Z. T. Sweeny is preparing to stock the state of Indiana with Chinese pheasants. As a begin-ning he has purchased 100 pairs from a pheasantry near Cincin-nati and these will be distributed in fifty Indiana counties. Do-mestic hens are to be employed in hatching eggs of these pheasants, for whose protection during the winter particular care is to be taken. Next year the state will make more extensive purchases. Mr. Sweeny says these birds are as hardy as quail and he expects in a few years to make Indiana a great pheasant state.

A Poultry Thief Shot.

A poultryman in Rhode Island who had had trouble with poul-try thieves decided top rotect his buildings by an electric burglar alarm, and was awakened the was awakened other night by the alarm ringing. Going out towards the poultry house, he discovered twomen es caping through the orchard, He called upon them to stop, which only quickened their steps and he fired a charge at them to "bring them to." One of the men dropped, and the other es caped. An examination revealed that the escaping thief had been shot dead, and that he was an Italian, living in an adjoining

The report says he leaves widow and three children, and it is, of course, unfortunate that the husband and father should ose his life, but who could the poultryman do? He would be foolish to let the thieves escape him, and a man is certainly jus tified in protecting his property even to the point of taking human life if necessary; and with two to one, and presumably des perate men at that, we think he would be justified in shooting Our account tells us only that the poultryman surrendered himself to the sheriff, and was released on nominal bail, pending the action of the grand jury We shall watch for the outcome of the case with interest .- Farm Poultry.

The "Hungry Hen" Lottery.

The hungry hen lottery has een hard hit by a decision at Washington, to the effect that matter relating to it is unmailable. The scheme, which was originated by a poultry journal, is to place on a sheet a quart of wheat, the kernels having been counted. On this sheet are placed three Plymouth Rock hens, that have been kept from feed for six hours. After ten minutes the hens will be removed. and the remaining kernels counted, the number eaten by the hens hereby being ascer-tained. The subscriber to the poultry journal who guesses nearest to the number eaten by the hens will receive $50. The decision which is given by attorney general Griggs, reads.

"The eating propensities of hens, even though they be of the same breed, undoubtedly vary, and the number of kernels eater by one would be no criterion as to the number that would be taken up by another at a different time, although under pre-cisely the same conditions. In my opinion this scheme is a lot-tery, and all matter relating to it is unmailable."—Boston Evening Transcript.

"What's the matter between you and your neighbor?" asked the judge.

"I cultivate a garden, and he keeps hens." "Sentence suspended. I live in the suburbs myself."-

SHOT IN THE FACE.

Officer Lander Plugs Will Harris -Wound Not Serious.

Officer Geo. Lander shot Will Harris, col., Saturday morning. The wound, while very painful, is not considered serious.

Harris, it seems, in company of Harris. it seems, in company of another negro, was near the Green-ville crossing, close by the L. & N. water tank, and when the officer approached then he asked the negroes some questions as to where they lived, etc. Harris became very insolent and abusive and the policeman told him he would take him to man told him he would take him to the police station. He refused to accompany Lander and stood with a rock in his hand in a threatening attitude and when the officer ordered the negro to drop the rock he re fused and was fired upon. The bal entered Harris' right cheek near the corner of the mouth and came out just below the right ear. The negro then accompanied the police man to the police station, where the wound was dressed by Dr. Lever-ett. Officer Lander surrendered to the authorities and it is likely the examining trial will be held some time this week.
